--Birds...--

...that soar

A close-up photograph of two lorikeets perched on a dark brown branch. The birds have vibrant, iridescent feathers. Their heads are primarily blue with orange-yellow patches on the sides. Their bodies are mostly orange with green and yellow accents on their wings and tails. They have bright red beaks. The background is filled with large, green, serrated leaves, creating a lush, tropical feel.

...that are colorful

...that are fanciful
